Dear Parents and Carers

As some of you are aware, I've been awaiting a hip replacement this academic year. I had a phone call this week to inform me that I will now be having the replacement on Wednesday 25th May, and am required to isolate from Monday 23rd May.

I've been informed by the surgeon that, given my age (surprisingly I'm not in my late eighties, despite my body thinking I am!), I may be able to return before the end of the summer term, however it does mean I will not be available in person over the coming weeks.

In my absence, various members of the Paddox team are available to support and help with any queries.
