Name: Kate Guymer

Role: Head of Paddox Primary School

My name is Kate Guymer and I took up my post as Headteacher of Paddox Primary School in September 2022. I have worked in Warwickshire schools for more than 20 years in a range of roles and am now in my ninth year of headship.

I believe that a primary school is a special place as is it full of opportunities to grow in every area of life; as learners, as friends and as the future of our community be it local or global. Books are a real passion of mine and it is great to see that here we already have a wealth of opportunities in this area.

My favourite book ever is Anne of Green Gables; she is a fiercely independent person who loves learning and responds to challenges positively at every turn.

Although being a headteacher is good, being a mum for me is even better and spending time with my two teenage daughters is definitely top of my list of things to do.
